

ISBN
1-890862-29-0

Price
$ 19.95

Pub. Date
November 2003

Category
Humor/ Mystery

Format
6 x 9, cloth

Pages
288

Author Resides
New Jersey

Story Setting
Midland Heights, NJ and the surrounding Areas; Washington, DC

bancroft press

Bancroft Press
PO Box 65360
Baltimore, MD 21209-9945
410-358-0658
800-637-7377
fax: 410-764-1967
Bruceb@bancroftpress.com

A Farewell to Legs

By Jeff Cohen

BOOK SUMMARY

Work-at-home dad, devoted husband, aspiring screenwriter—all ways to describe the unwilling sleuth Aaron Tucker, whom one reviewer dubbed a combination of “Bart Simpson and James Bond.” In A Farewell to Legs, the second installment of the Aaron Tucker Mystery Series, Aaron is back on the trail again, this time trying to ferret out the murderer of a former classmate, a D.C. lobbyist whose enemies finally stick it to him, literally—with a six-inch steak knife. The deceased leaves behind a bombshell of a widow, a hidden bankroll of $13 million, and a cloud of political controversy, all of which lead Aaron to a barrel of red herrings.

But in the life of Aaron Tucker, one mystery is never enough (though he'd be quick to tell you otherwise). He's also been delegated the odious task of tracking down Buzbee School's secret stink-bomber, and his wife, the beautiful attorney Abby Stein, is being stalked by a former client. All in a day's work for the 5'4" freelance writer, who, as procrastinator extraordinaire, would rather be doing anything but investigating.

SALES HANDLES

- ◀ A follow-up to the well-loved For Whom the Minivan Rolls
- ◀ Follows in the footsteps of current industry greats, but adds to their style a humorous twist
- ◀ Offers a unique main character -- a Jewish stay-at-home dad who solves mysteries, cooks dinner, and cares for his son, who has a high-functioning form of autism called Asperger's syndrome.

AUDIENCE

- ◀ Fans of For Whom the Minivan Rolls
- ◀ Mystery lovers
- ◀ Humor lovers
- ◀ New Jersey residents
- ◀ Parents of children with Asperger's syndrome
- ◀ Jewish community
- ◀ Dads

MARKETING/ PUBLICITY

- ◀ Direct marketing to independent mystery bookstores around the nation
- ◀ Radio interviews with author
- ◀ Featured prominently in review journals (Booklist, LJ, etc.)
- ◀ Deadly Ink Mystery Convention
- ◀ Pre-pub Book Clubs of Booksamillion, Pfizer, and Working Mother
- ◀ Review on Buy.com to coincide with November release